Introduction
A suite of performance reports have been developed which will display aggregate candidate results:

- Over time (year-on-year for the current year and previous three)
- Against all other preparation centres in the same country and globally

The reports are fully integrated into the Preparation Centre Results Portal and can be viewed by anyone who is currently able to use the service. The reports cover all Cambridge English Qualifications from Pre A1 Starters to C2 Proficiency, including the Business certificates from B1 Business Preliminary to C1 Business Higher.

Accessing the reports
To use the reports, simply log into the portal as usual – you will see an additional tab on the menu bar.

Clicking on this will display the reports page - click on the underlined link as shown.

The actual reports shown will vary depending on the types of examination offered by your preparation centre.
Performance Reports for your Preparation Centre

Welcome to our results reporting service for preparation centres.

If your preparation centre is registered with more than one authorised centre or with more than one log-in, you will only be able to see reports for the log-in that you are currently using. Note that there are 20 candidates or fewer, data is not sufficient to provide meaningful reports/comparisons.

For information on running the reports please see the user guide.

If you have any technical issues with the reports, please contact Cambridge Assessment English on https://support.cambridgeenglish.org

Note that the reports cover the last three years and the current year to date. Click on the name or description to run the report.

Notes (all reports)

To run a report, click on its name or description in the menu. You will be asked to enter one or more parameters, depending on report type – note that if you have already entered a parameter (such as exam name) on another report it will be pre-populated, but can of course be changed if required.

This may mean that the report runs automatically when selected – if this happens and you need the results for a different exam or time period, simply change the parameters and run the report again by clicking on the View Report button as usual.

The navigation pane

When you run a report (excluding the dashboards), a navigation pane will be displayed at the left hand side of the screen. This allows you to jump between the available reports by clicking on the report name. The reports shown will be the same as those on the main menu, minus the report you are currently using and without the dashboards.

Notes

- The navigation pane does not appear on the dashboards, only on individual reports.
- You will not need to re-enter any parameters already selected on another report (as described above)
- Return to the main menu by clicking on Report Navigation
- You can access the FAQs page by clicking on the FAQs button.
Downloading reports

After the results have been displayed, reports can be downloaded in Excel format by clicking the Select a format drop-down, selecting Excel 2003, and clicking Export. The charts are downloaded as images and it is easy to copy them into any other application you require.

Do the same for chart type (this will default to bar chart, but you can also choose stacked bar or data table).

When you have done this, click on the View Report button on the right hand side of the screen – the report will run and the results will be displayed.

The report is run in exactly the same way as Year on Year Grade Distributions, with the addition of an extra parameter to allow the selection of the years you would like included on the report. The report is the same as Group Grade Distributions described above except that instead of selecting years to include you can choose the exact starting and ending month and year you would like the report to cover.

1. Select Start Year

2. Select Start Month

3. Select End Year

Frequently Asked Questions

FAQs can be accessed from the main menu:

Click on either link to view the FAQs. When you are finished, click on the Back button to return to the page you were on before.

The full set of FAQs are shown on the following pages.
Why are the reports for Starters, Movers and Flyers different from the reports for other exams?

Results for Starters, Movers and Flyers are reported by skill (Speaking, Listening, Reading and Writing) and there is no overall score and no Cambridge English Scale score, as there is for the other exams.

Why does the same report appear on the dashboard and again separately?

The dashboard shows all the reports on a single page so that you don’t have to click on each report separately. There is one dashboard for Starters, Movers and Flyers, showing both reports for those exams, and there are two dashboards for the other exams: one showing the four reports related to overall scores and grades, and one showing the two reports related to skills. If you don’t do Starters, Movers and Flyers, these reports won’t show on your homepage, and vice versa for the other exams.

On the dashboard, why do I need to select both Start Year/End Year and Reporting Year(s)?

The dashboard shows several different reports on one page. Some reports compare results for your preparation centre by year, so you need to select the years you want to compare, while others compare results for your preparation centre versus your country and the world, so you can select the period of time you are interested in, e.g. you can select just May 2018 or you can select several years.

My preparation centre is part of a chain of schools, why can’t I see reports for all the schools?

Authorised Exam Centres register exam entries against preparation centres and each preparation centre has a unique ID. You are only able to see reports for entries made against your unique ID. The other schools in the chain probably have a different ID.

Why do I not see paper-based and computer-based exam results available for selection separately?

Results for paper and computer based exams have been merged so that selecting Advanced, for example, will show the results for the computer-based Advanced and paper-based Advanced exam in the same chart.

The data for my preparation centre looks inaccurate, why?

Data is refreshed weekly. If you are looking at recent exams, the data may not be available yet. If you use more than one Authorised Exam Centre, you won’t be able to see reports for entries made with different centres in one report. It may also be possible that the Centre has registered entries from your preparation centre against different IDs for different sessions. If the data still looks inaccurate, please contact https://support.cambridgeenglish.org
My preparation centre has candidates for Starters, Movers, Flyers and Key for Schools, Preliminary for Schools, First for Schools and Advanced but I can only see reports for Key for Schools, Preliminary for Schools, First for Schools and Advanced, and not for Starters, Movers and Flyers. Why?

Is your preparation centre ID the same for both Starters, Movers, Flyers and the other exams? Sometimes Authorised Exam Centres register preparation centres separately for the different exams.

I can only see data for the country and rest of the world, and not for my preparation centre, why?

Did your preparation centre enter any candidates for that exam in the time period selected? If so, did you use the same authorised exam centre? Is it possible that the centre registered your entries against a different preparation centre name and ID?

Where do I find my prep centre ID?

Log into the Preparation Centre Results Online, click on My Profile then Edit Profile on the drop-down menu. The unique ID is displayed below your preparation centre name, as in the example below.

If I have a technical issue, who should I contact?
