The spread of COVID-19 around the world is having an impact on education, and we are aware that some of our centres and schools have had to close temporarily. Unfortunately, this will also mean that some exams have to be postponed. We want to reassure you that we are making arrangements to ensure that candidates can take their exams as quickly as possible once restrictions are lifted.

In the meantime, we are committed to supporting our exam centres, schools, teachers, learners and the ministries to carry on learning English and preparing for their qualifications. We have a wide range of resources to help you quickly access materials that you need to support your students in these challenging circumstances.

We encourage you to share these resources with your students/schools/teachers/ministries to ensure everyone is supported in these challenging circumstances.

We help people learn English and prove their skills to the world

Cambridge Assessment English is the producer and proud co-owner of IELTS, the world's leading English test for migration and higher education. We help millions of people learn English and prove their skills to the world.

Part of the University of Cambridge, we provide the world's leading range of qualifications and tests for learners and teachers of English. For us, learning English is more than just exams and grades. It's about having the confidence to communicate and access a lifetime of enriching experiences and opportunities.

Whether you're planning to live, work or study in your own country or abroad, we can give you the English language skills to succeed. We provide the world's leading range of qualifications and tests for learners and teachers of English. Globally recognised by more than 25,000 leading universities, employers and governments, our research-based assessments are a mark of excellence that open doors.

English is spoken in every corner of the globe: from cafés to campuses, markets to meeting rooms and everywhere in between. We deliver exams in over 130 countries to over 5.5 million people every year. We offer comprehensive preparation, support materials and resources for learning and teaching English. Through years of research we have gained in-depth understanding of how people learn languages. This enables us to design assessments that help learners acquire the right skills based on how people use English today.

Our work is supported around the world by a network of 2,800 exam centres, over 50,000 schools and tens of thousands of examiners, teachers, education experts and publishers. Working together, we inspire learners to go further.

With the right support, learning a language is an exhilarating journey. We're with you every step of the way.

TEACHERS

A 4 WEEK ONLINE COURSE ON TEACHING ENGLISH ONLINE

Free registration on this link <https://www.futurelearn.com/courses/online-tutoring>

During the 4-week course teachers will learn how to plan and deliver effective online English lessons. Teachers can learn how to adapt their face-to-face teaching skills to an online environment and gain insights from online teachers and trainers, plus share ideas with other participants.

A SERIES OF PRACTICAL GUIDES ON RUNNING COURSES ONLINE

To help support all teachers who now have to teach from home due to the Coronavirus outbreak, we have created a series of blog posts with expert advice on how to move classes online.

The six articles aim to provide support to teachers of English with no experience of online teaching, with detailed guidance on how to move from a face to face to a virtual classroom while still keeping students engaged.

VIRTUALLY ANYWHERE

Audio drama with lesson plans to help learners practise listening on CEFR Level B1 and B2

<http://www.cambridgeenglish.org/learning-english/free-resources/virtually-anywhere>

Improve your English listening skills with our new audio series, Virtually Anywhere. The series tells a story about university students Geeta and Paul. They are struggling with their coursework, when a mysterious professor offers to help.

Each of the seven episodes comes with B1-B2 level activities to help learners practise the language used in each episode. For teachers, there are lesson plans available, so the episodes can also be used in the classroom.
