How to use this guide

This guide is designed to help you on each step of your learning journey. There's information and advice for how to prepare before the exam, what to expect in the exam and what will happen after the exam.

This guide also includes lots of helpful boxes with i key information and advice, ★ study tips and ? questions which people often ask about the exam:

i It's important that you understand what you need to do in each part of the exam and follow all the instructions carefully.

★ Practice tests are useful but they are only one part of your preparation. You also need to practise your general language and communication skills!

? Where can I find practice tests?
You can find official exam preparation materials online and in bookshops, including coursebooks and practice test books. There are also free paper-based and computer-based sample tests on our website.

Read these tips carefully – they will help you to feel well prepared for the exam and to avoid common mistakes or problems.

And ... good luck with your exam!

About the exam

B2 First for Schools is a qualification for learners who have an upper-intermediate level of English. The exam:

- ✓ tests your knowledge and ability in English at Level B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR)
- ✓ is accepted by thousands of colleges, universities and employers around the world as evidence that you can use spoken and written English for study, work and life
- ✓ includes the same tasks and question types as B2 First, but uses topics that are interesting for teenage learners who are at school
- ✓ is based on extensive research to make sure that each paper is the right length and the right level, so your exam result will reflect your abilities fairly and accurately
- ✓ is designed to show your ability to use English in a range of different ways
- ✓ can be taken on paper or on a computer.

The exam has four papers. Each one is equally important.

1. Reading and Use of English This paper tests your reading skills, such as reading for detail or understanding how a text is organised, and your knowledge and use of a range of vocabulary and grammar.	2. Writing This tests the content, communicative achievement, organisation and language of your written English.
Your scores for (Paper 1 (Reading) + Paper 1 (Use of English) + Paper 2 + Paper 3 + Paper 4) ÷ 5 = your exam result!
3. Listening This paper tests real-life listening skills, such as listening for general meaning, information, opinion or detail.	4. Speaking This tests your ability to interact with other speakers, how you organise your ideas, your pronunciation and your use of grammar and vocabulary.

Do I need to pass all four papers?

No, it's possible to pass the exam if you do well in some papers but not in every paper. For example, if you do very well in Reading and Use of English, Writing and Listening, but you don't do very well in Speaking, it's still possible to pass the exam.

What's the difference between taking the exam on paper or on a computer?

The content of the exams is the same, the scoring is the same and the final certificate is the same. Cambridge English offers two versions of the exam (paper-based and computer-based) just so you have more choice and flexibility in how you take it.

Preparing for the exam

A successful and enjoyable journey begins with good preparation. For B2 First for Schools, this means you should:

- practise your English in all four skills: reading, writing, listening and speaking
- improve your grammar and vocabulary for communication at B2 level
- understand how the exam is organised and assessed
- understand what will happen on exam day.

Keep reading to find out more about how you can prepare for each paper in the B2 First for Schools exam.

Follow time limits when you do practice tests. This will help you prepare for the real exam, when you will have limited time to complete the tasks and fill in the answer sheet. (And remember, if you have extra time at the end of the Writing and the Reading and Use of English tests, you can go back to a task and look at it again.)

Self-study is very important when preparing for an exam, because sometimes you don't have a teacher or a book to help you. Try these ways to make your learning journey more personal:

- Write interesting vocabulary in a notebook. Include the meaning, the pronunciation, an example sentence and a translation in your first language.
- Find a 'study buddy' – a friend or classmate. It's great if they have different strengths so you can help them and they can help you!

Do I have to be a teenager to take B2 First for Schools?

No. You can take this exam at any age, but the content of the 'for Schools' exams is aimed at teenage learners, so older learners might prefer to take the B2 First exam instead.

What's the difference between B2 First and B2 First for Schools?

B2 First and B2 First for Schools exams follow exactly the same format. The CEFR level is the same (B2) and candidates are tested in all the same skills. However, the content of the 'for Schools' version is a little bit different because it's designed for the interests and experiences of teenagers.

Is there a difference between the certificates for B2 First and B2 First for Schools?

No. Students who pass B2 First for Schools receive the same certificate as students who pass the standard version of the exam. Both certificates are widely accepted around the world.

Is there a wordlist for this exam?

No. Exams that are at CEFR Level B2 or above, like B2 First for Schools, do not have particular language specifications or vocabulary lists.

Paper 1: Reading and Use of English

1 hour 15 minutes 7 parts	Parts 1–3	Three short texts (one text for each part), with different tasks. You must complete the gaps with different kinds of words.
	Part 4	No text. You must rewrite sentences in a different way.
	Part 5	One long text with six multiple-choice questions.
	Part 6	One text with six gaps. You must choose the correct sentence for each gap.
	Part 7	One text or several short texts, with 10 questions. You must match each question to something in the text(s).

There are many different types of text in the exam: newspaper and magazine articles, reports, fiction, advertisements, letters, messages and informational material (such as brochures, guides, manuals, etc.). They're all about topics which are interesting to teenage students. Before you take the exam, it's important that you have seen these kinds of text before and that you know how to do the kind of tasks which appear in the exam.

Extra help online

You can find a sample test and self-study lesson plans on our website to practise different parts of the Reading and Use of English paper.

To improve your reading skills, it's really important to read many different types of text which you really enjoy. If you have a special interest or hobby, try reading about it in English as much as you can. You can read anything: blogs, books, magazine articles, social media, informational websites or encyclopaedias. The important thing is just to read as much as possible and to enjoy it!

For this paper you need to study things like collocations (words which often go together), phrasal verbs, linking words and to understand how writers use different words to express similar meanings. (All of these are important for the Writing paper, too!) When you're preparing for the exam, keep a notebook and write down vocabulary which you see often. You could use this to test yourself later.

Some common questions about Paper 1: Reading and Use of English

Are words like 'doesn't' and 'isn't' counted as one or two words?

Two words. To count the number of words, use the full form, e.g. didn't = did not = two words.

What happens if I make one small mistake in the key word transformation task (Part 4)? Do I get zero points?

The sentence has two parts, so you will receive 1 mark for correctly completing one part of the sentence, even if a small mistake means that you get no points for the other part.

What if I don't understand all the words in a text?

Just continue reading and try to understand as much as possible. Use the context to help you. In the exam, you can't use a dictionary, so it's important to be able to read without stopping to look up all the words.

Will I lose marks for incorrect answers?

No. A correct answer gets 1 or 2 marks, an incorrect answer gets 0 marks and no answer gets 0 marks. So if you're not sure about an answer, it is best to guess something!

Will I get one or two scores for the Reading and Use of English paper?

Two. Your Reading score is based on Parts 1, 5, 6 and 7, and your Use of English score is based on Parts 2, 3 and 4. Your Statement of Results will show both scores, plus three more: one score for Writing, one for Listening and one for Speaking. Each of these five scores is equally important when calculating your overall score.

Do ...

- ✓ Read the sources, titles and subtitles of the texts. These will help you choose the best answers.
- ✓ In Parts 1 and 2, read the words which come after the gaps. These words might affect the answer.
- ✓ In Part 3, remember to change the words that you write. They might have to change into a negative or a plural, so look carefully at the text to decide which form is best.
- ✓ In Part 4, only write between two and five words. Don't write out the full sentence!
- ✓ In Part 5, read the questions carefully and check each option with the text before rejecting it.
- ✓ In Part 6, check the words around the gap carefully, because the missing word(s) may be part of an idiom, fixed phrase or collocation.
- ✓ In Part 6, check that the completed paragraph makes sense in the text as a whole, because the missing sentence must fit the overall context.
- ✓ Check your spelling in all parts of the test. (American spelling is OK – but don't mix American and British.)
- ✓ Make sure that you transfer your answers to the answer sheet accurately and clearly, because it will be scanned into a computer.

Don't ...

- ✗ Don't use a pen on the answer sheet. Use a pencil. Answers written in pen cannot be read by the marking machine i.e. 0 points! Rub out any answers you want to change using an eraser.
- ✗ Don't spend too much time on any one part of the paper. All seven parts are equally important, and you only have 75 minutes to do this paper – including copying your answers to the answer sheet.
- ✗ Don't try to answer any questions before reading the whole text first. It's important to understand the whole context.
- ✗ Don't assume that you have found the right answer if the same word appears in the text and in an option. You might need to look for a synonym or related word instead.
- ✗ Don't write the answers to any of the examples on your answer sheets.
- ✗ Don't write more than one answer for any question, even if you think there are two possible answers.

Paper 2: Writing

1 hour 20 minutes 2 parts	Part 1	Writing 140–190 words. There is only one question. You must write an essay which shows your opinion about the topic, using the ideas which are given in the question and one extra idea of your own.
	Part 2	Writing 140–190 words. There are three questions and you must choose only one. You could write an article, email, letter, review or story.

There are four assessment criteria for the tasks in the Writing paper:

- ✓ Content (How well have you completed the task? Have you done what you were asked to do?)
- ✓ Communicative Achievement (Is the writing appropriate for the task? For example, is the style right for a magazine article? Have you used the right register, for example formal or informal?)
- ✓ Organisation (How is the piece of writing put together? Is it logical and ordered?)
- ✓ Language (Do you use a good range of vocabulary and grammar? Are there any mistakes which would make it difficult for the reader to understand?)

For both exam tasks, you receive marks from 0 to 5 for each of the four criteria. These scores are combined to calculate your final mark for the Writing paper.

Extra help online

You can find a sample test and self-study lesson plans to practise writing for the exam on our website.

Try the exam tasks on Write & Improve and get fast, free automated feedback on your writing.

You can learn a lot from reading other people's written work! Try the following:

1. Find a sample answer in a coursebook or book of practice tests.
2. Look at how the writer answers the different parts of the question.
3. Choose one of the assessment criteria which you find more difficult and look at what the writer does well. Take some notes and compare this to your own writing.

For example, for Organisation, you could look at how the writer organises their ideas into paragraphs. Then think about how they develop these ideas, and how they link ideas in each paragraph and between the paragraphs.

Some common questions about Paper 2: Writing

What if I write too much, or if I don't write enough?

The questions on the test paper will tell you how much to write. You can use this information to help you plan your answer. If you write too much, you will only lose marks if you have included details which aren't important or which confuse the reader. If you write a shorter answer which includes all the required information, this is OK.

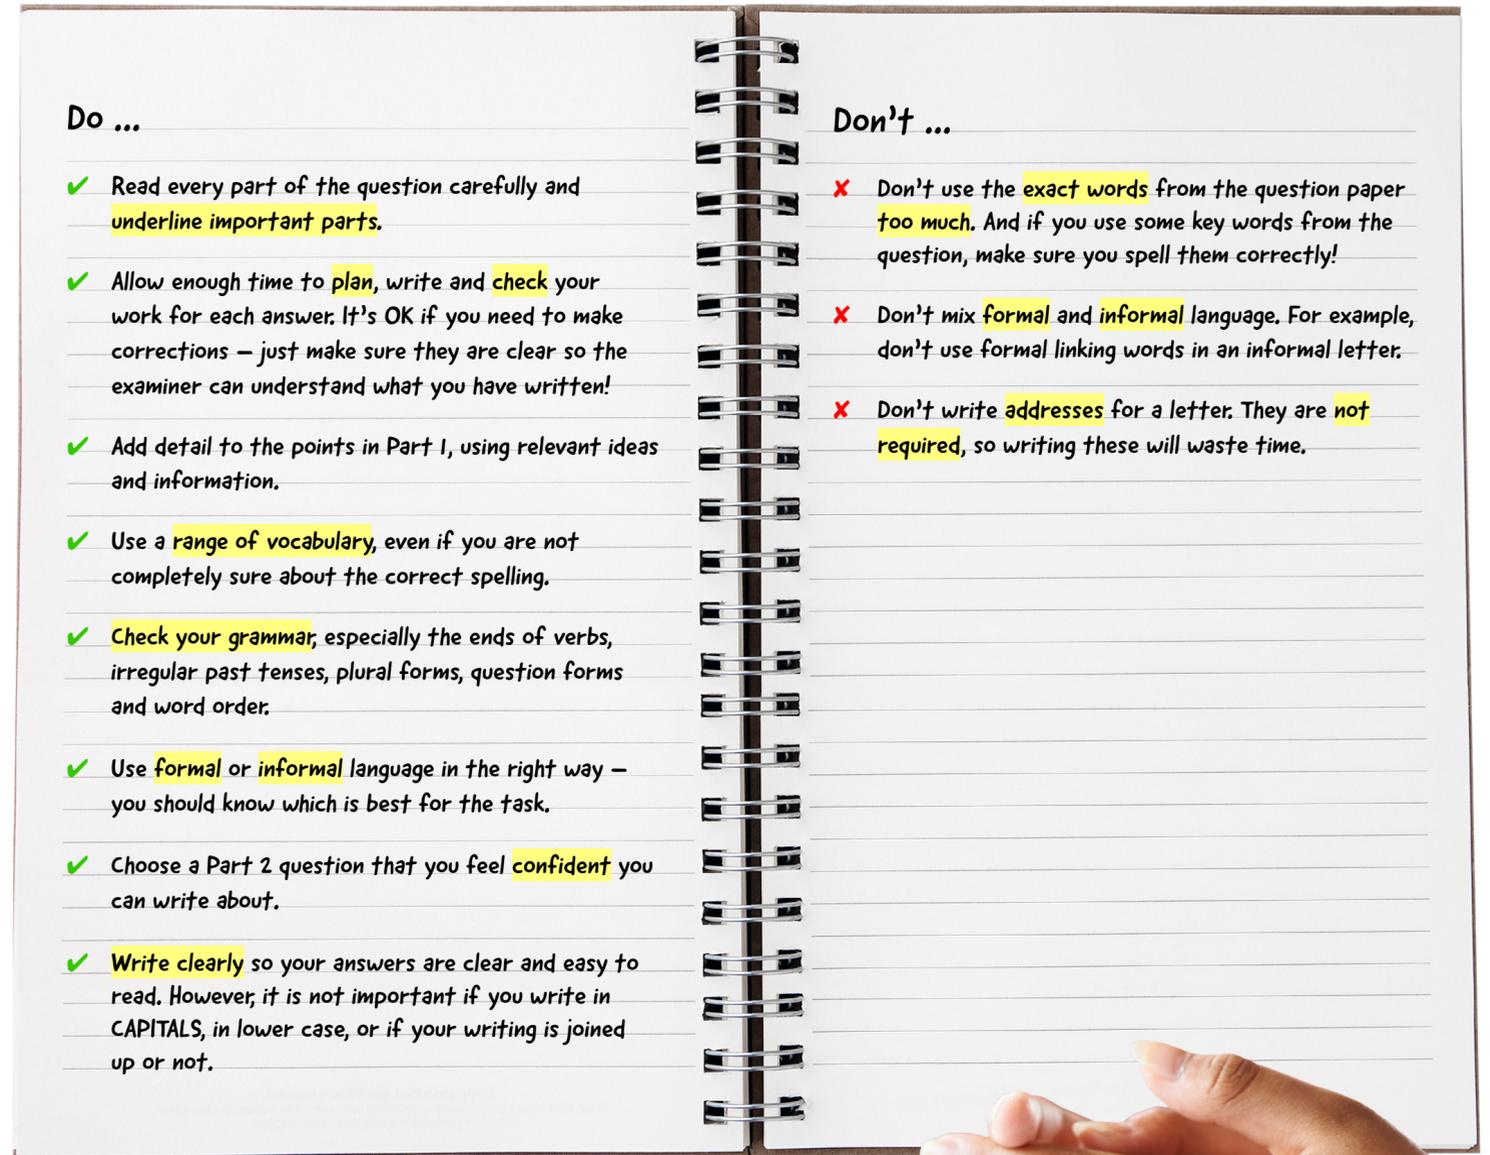

Where do I write my answers?

In the candidate answer booklet. Your test centre will also provide paper for your plan, notes, etc.

What happens if I need more paper?

Don't worry – raise your hand and indicate that you need more paper. Just remember at the end of the exam to submit all the paper you used. This includes your final answer sheet, the question paper and any notes which you made to plan or prepare your answer.

Paper 3: Listening

About 40 minutes 4 parts	Part 1	Listen to several recordings about different topics. For each recording, answer a multiple-choice question. Each recording is about 30 seconds long and there could be one or more people speaking.
	Part 2	Listen to one person speaking for 3–4 minutes and complete 10 sentences with information that you hear.
	Part 3	Listen to five short recordings about the same topic. For each recording, choose the right answer from a list of eight options. Each recording is about 30 seconds long and has only one person speaking.
	Part 4	Listen to two people speaking together for 3–4 minutes and answer seven multiple-choice questions.

- ✓ In the exam, always read the questions before you start listening. Don't worry if you miss a question – use the questions to help you find your place. You will hear each recording twice.
- ✓ In the exam, if you can't hear the recording, raise your hand immediately so somebody can quickly help to fix the problem.

Extra help online

Try the sample Listening test on our website.

Listen to Virtually Anywhere, an audio series of seven episodes. It also includes activities to help you practise the language which is used in the episodes.

This paper tests different real-life skills, including listening for information, opinion or detail, and listening for the general meaning of the whole text. To practise, find an interesting video or audio clip online and share it with a friend. Choose something which you know you will disagree about! After listening, discuss it together. Use examples from the clip to support your opinions!

To improve your listening skills, it's important to listen to many different things which you really enjoy. You can find lots of video and audio material online related to your interests and hobbies, like podcasts, talks, radio stations, audiobooks and so on. Many of these come with subtitles or transcripts so you can read and listen at the same time. The important thing is just to listen in English as much as possible and to enjoy it!

Some common questions about Paper 3: Listening

How many times will I hear each recording?

You will hear each recording two times.

Where do I write my answers?

You must write all your answers on a separate answer sheet. While you're listening, you can write on the question paper, but you must transfer your answers to the answer sheet. You will have 5 minutes at the end of the test to do this.

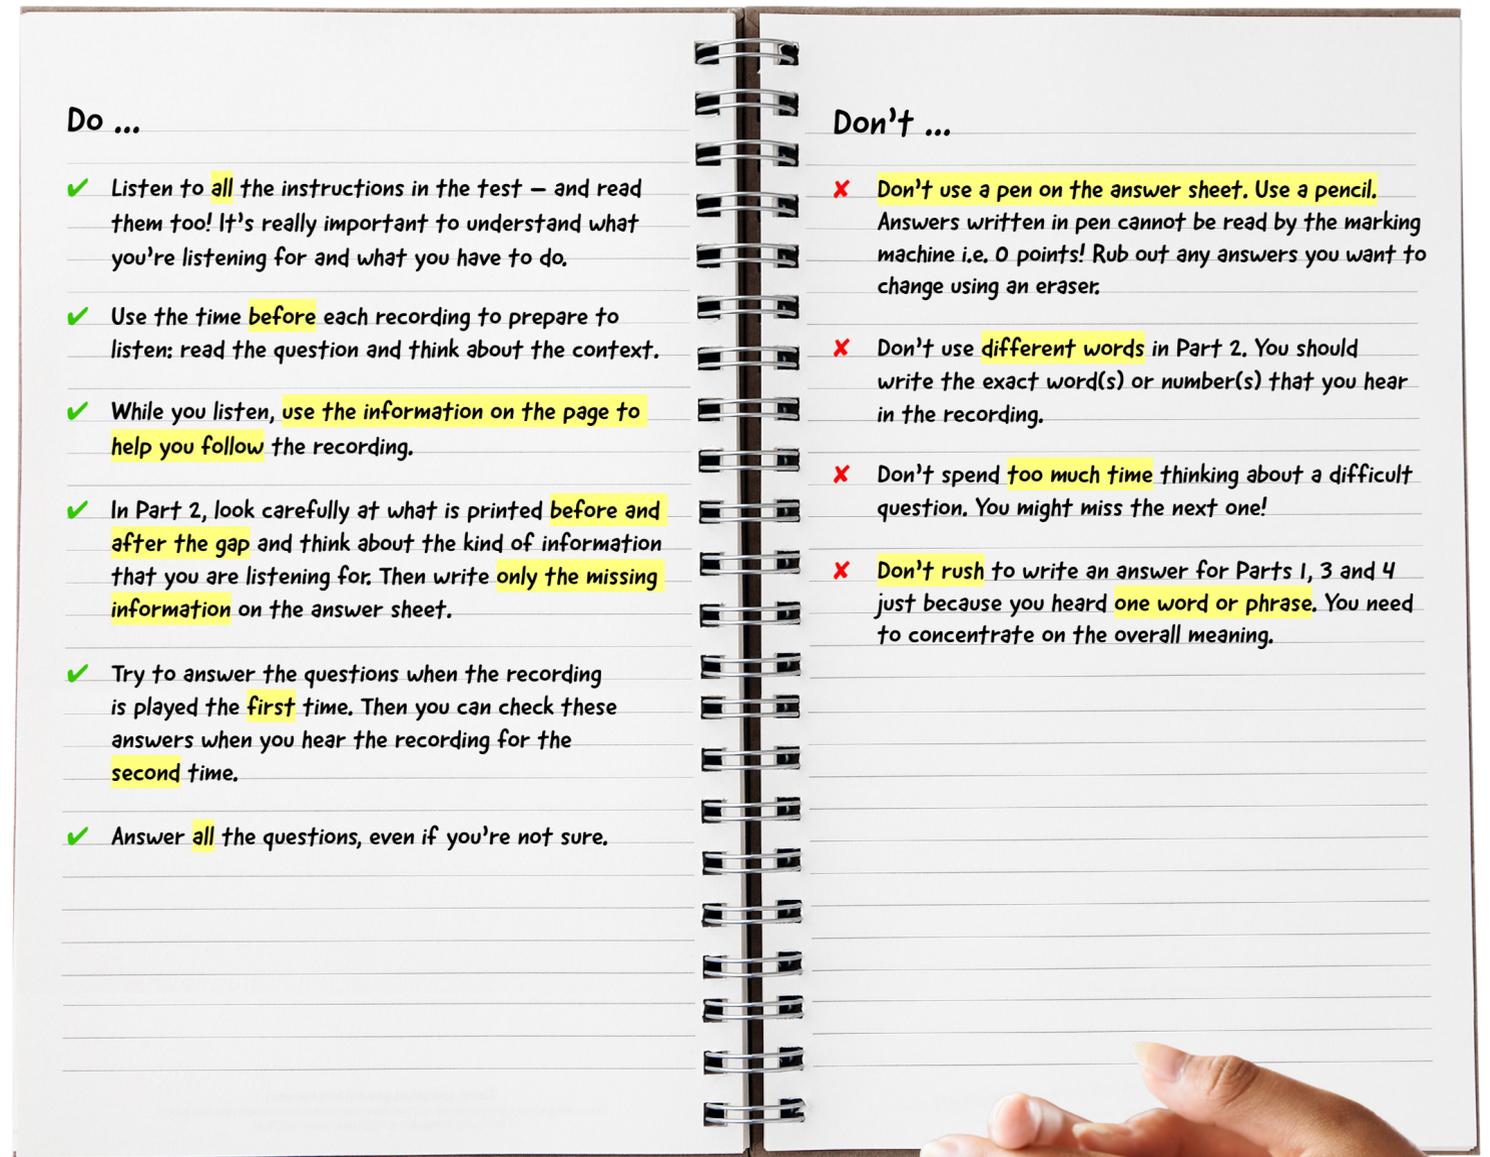

How important is spelling?

It's OK to make some small spelling mistakes in the Listening paper of this exam, but it must be clear what you were trying to write.

Can I wear headphones?

Ask your exam centre. Different exam centres have different rules about using headphones for the Listening test.

Paper 4: Speaking

Candidates are tested together in pairs or groups of three. If there are three candidates together, the test lasts longer so each candidate gets enough time to speak.

About 14 minutes 4 parts	Part 1	Each candidate has a brief general conversation with the examiner.
	Part 2	You and the other candidate(s) each speak for 1 minute about two photographs. After the other candidate has spoken, you also have 30 seconds to respond to what they said.
	Part 3	You and the other candidate(s) discuss and complete a decision-making task.
	Part 4	The candidates and the examiner all speak together about topics related to the task in Part 3.

Don't try to prepare and memorise general answers for the Speaking or Writing tests. They almost certainly won't answer the questions which you are asked.

Extra help online

Watch an example of a real Speaking test and read the examiner's comments.

If you don't know about a topic in the Speaking paper, do not speak about something else! You need to show your language skills, not your knowledge about a specific subject.

It might help you to practise some strategies in advance, such as:

- how to explain that you don't know a lot about a topic
- how to connect this topic logically to something you are more familiar with, so that you still answer the examiner's question
- describing what a friend or family member might say about the topic instead.

Like all language skills, your speaking will improve if you practise more. Speak to different people, in different situations about different topics. You can also practise for Part 2 of the Speaking test by using podcasting or video websites to record yourself, then you can listen back to see what you could improve.

Some common questions about Paper 4: Speaking

Can I do the Speaking test with another student from my school?

Ask your exam centre. Different exam centres have different rules about this. But there is no evidence that candidates perform better or worse in the Speaking test if they know their partner. Some people might feel more relaxed and confident, but other candidates may find this situation difficult or unnatural.

What if my partner for the Speaking test is better than me at speaking skills?

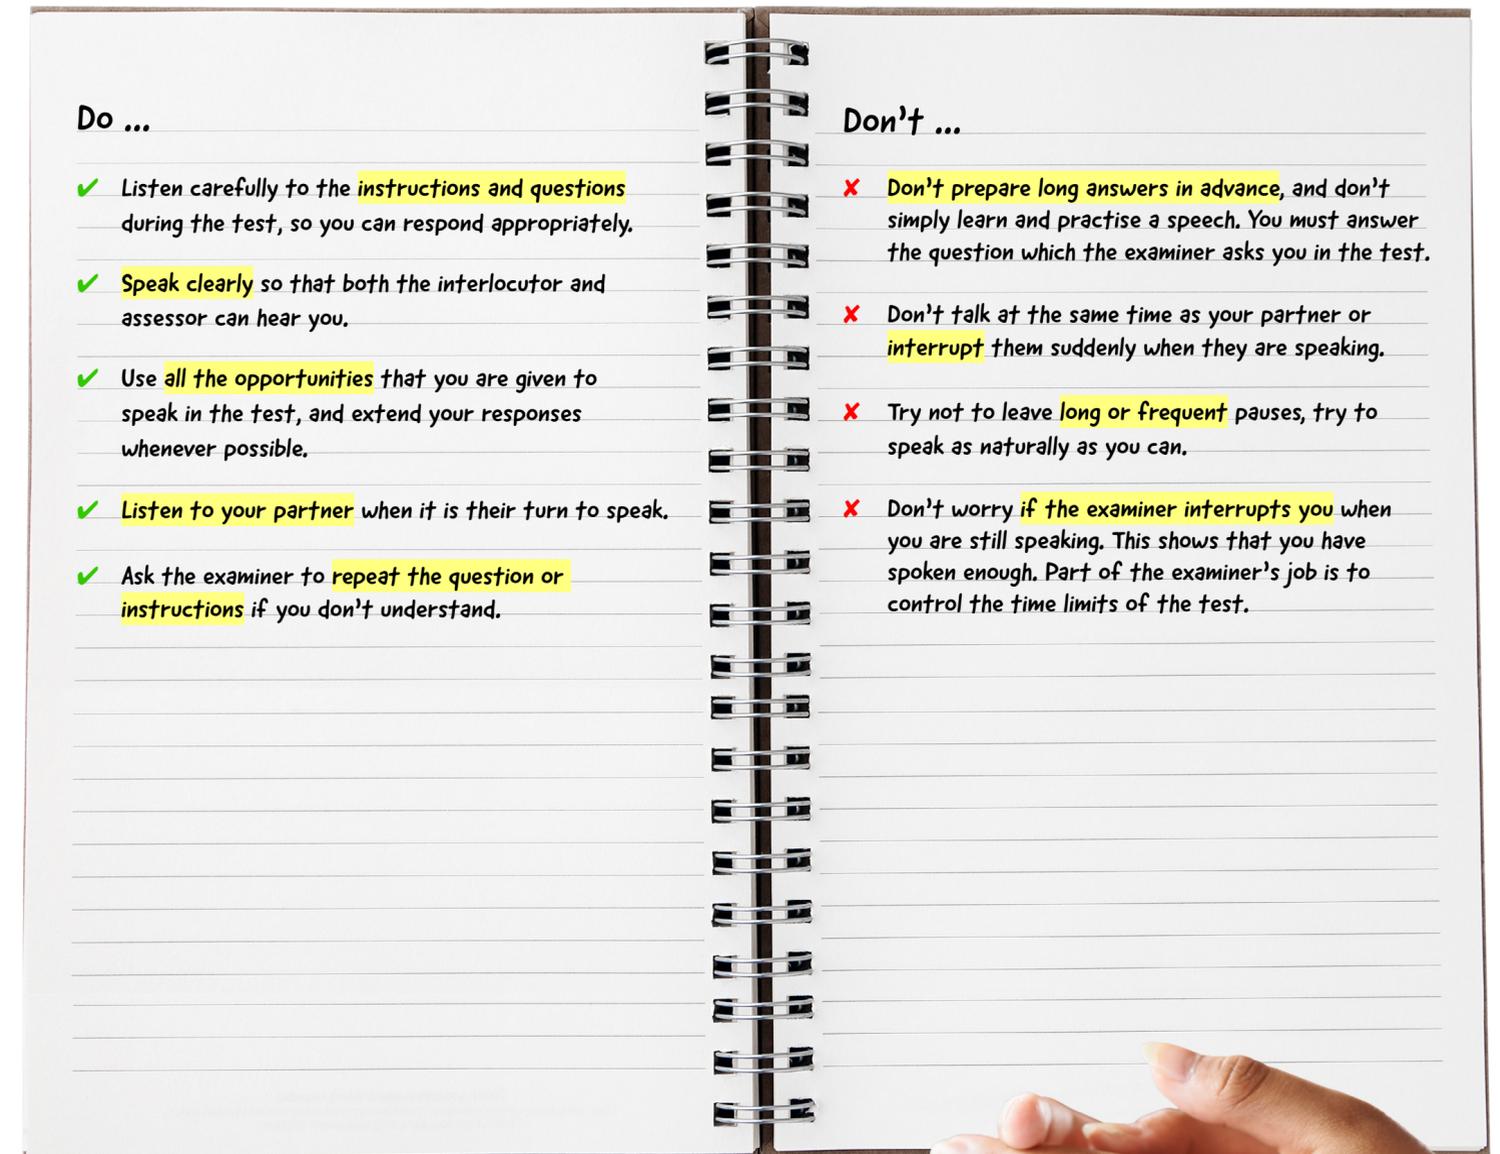

Examiners are specially trained for situations where one candidate is stronger or weaker, or if one person talks too much or not enough. Don't worry – they will make sure you get a fair opportunity to show your speaking skills in the test.

Why are there two examiners for the Speaking test?

The two examiners are doing different jobs. One person is an interlocutor, which means they speak to you and manage the test. The other person is an assessor, who only listens and does not participate in the test. Together, the interlocutor and the assessor decide how well you performed.

The interlocutor gives you a general mark for how well you did in the whole test, and the assessor specifically considers four criteria: Grammar and Vocabulary, Discourse Management, Pronunciation and Interactive Communication.

Do ...

- ✓ Listen carefully to the instructions and questions during the test, so you can respond appropriately.
- ✓ Speak clearly so that both the interlocutor and assessor can hear you.
- ✓ Use all the opportunities that you are given to speak in the test, and extend your responses whenever possible.
- ✓ Listen to your partner when it is their turn to speak.
- ✓ Ask the examiner to repeat the question or instructions if you don't understand.

Don't ...

- ✗ Don't prepare long answers in advance, and don't simply learn and practise a speech. You must answer the question which the examiner asks you in the test.
- ✗ Don't talk at the same time as your partner or interrupt them suddenly when they are speaking.
- ✗ Try not to leave long or frequent pauses, try to speak as naturally as you can.
- ✗ Don't worry if the examiner interrupts you when you are still speaking. This shows that you have spoken enough. Part of the examiner's job is to control the time limits of the test.

Taking the exam

Even after lots of preparation, many people still feel nervous on exam day. That's why it's really important to feel ready and to know what to expect. Watch the What to expect on exam day video.

Before exam day, you should:

- ✓ Register for the exam. If you are preparing for the exam as part of a course at a school, your school will register you. If you are studying independently, you can look online to find a centre that offers the exam and register directly with them. They will give you advice about preparation and tell you how much your exam will cost.
- ✓ Sign up for our free online results service. The fastest way to get your results is to register with our Results Service for Candidates. When you register for the exam, you'll be given your Candidate ID Number and your Secret Number. You'll need these details to register to receive your results online.
- ✓ Check the date, time and address of your exam. Your centre will send you this information.
- ✓ Check that you know where the exam is happening and how to get there, because you must arrive before the exam starts.

You should register with our free Results Service for Candidates a few weeks before your exam.

Can I choose to take different exam papers on different days?

No, the Speaking test is the only paper which usually happens on a different day. All the other papers must be taken together on the same day.

Do I need to bring anything with me on exam day?

Yes, you should bring:

1. identification (for example, your passport or national ID card). It must be the original document with your photo and it must be valid on the day of your exam.
2. pens (black or dark blue)
3. pencils (B or HB) and an eraser
4. a clear plastic bottle of water.

Your exam centre will have extra pens and pencils if you need them.

You cannot bring your mobile phone or other electronic items inside the exam room. Your exam centre can tell you if you should leave these at home or if they can keep them somewhere safe during the exam.

Top tips for exam day

- ✓ In the Reading and Use of English and Writing papers, you can do the tasks in any order, so you might want to start with the questions which you find easier. Just make sure that you write your answers in the correct order on the answer sheet!
- ✓ It's important to have enough energy when you're taking an exam! Before exam day, check with your exam centre if it's possible to buy food and drink there. If not, you might want to bring something to eat. You can't bring food to your desk, but you can eat it during breaks.
- ✓ Check you know what you can and can't do in the exam room. For example, you can't bring food to your desk with you but you can bring a clear plastic bottle of water. All of this information is in the Summary Regulations, which you can read online before exam day. Your exam centre will also provide a copy of these rules.
- ✓ There will be a clock or timer in the exam room (or on your screen if you're taking the computer-based test). Remember to use the time well. Try not to panic by looking at the clock every few minutes!
- ✓ Follow all instructions carefully. In the computer-based exam, the instructions will be on your screen. In the paper-based exam, they will be on the exam paper. If you have any questions, if you need help or if you want to leave the room, raise your hand to ask the invigilator (the person who helps manage the exams).
- ✓ Your exam centre will take your photo. They might also make a note of your passport or ID number. These steps are very important if you want to use your exam result in future for immigration or higher education.
- ✓ Finally ... try to sleep well the night before your exam!

During the exam, you must not talk to other people or try to see what they are writing or typing.

At the end of the paper-based exam, the invigilator will tell you to stop writing and you must stop immediately. Then you must give them all your papers, including the question papers, answer sheets and any notes which you took, and wait in your seat. The invigilator will tell you when you can leave the room.

After the exam

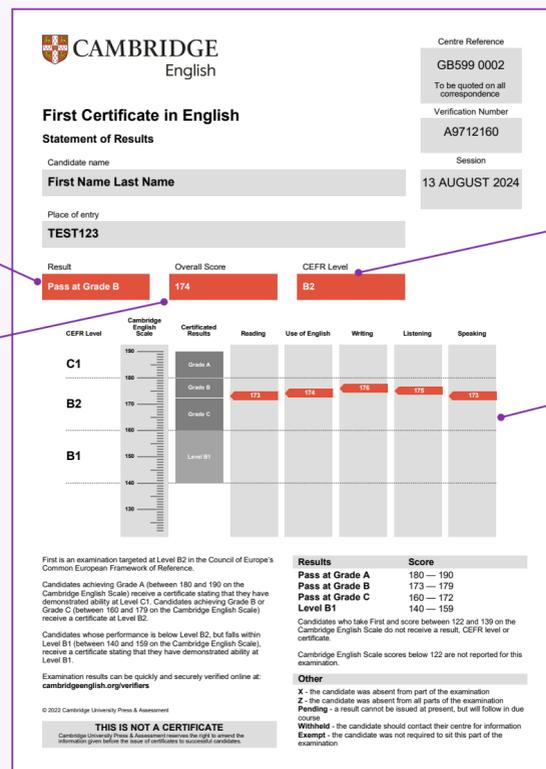

Well done! You prepared, you took the exam and now you're just waiting for your results. So what happens now?

Getting your results and certificate

All candidates receive a Statement of Results. If you are successful in the exam, you will also receive a certificate. Both of these documents will be sent to your exam centre.

	Paper-based exam	Computer-based exam
Statement of Results	4–6 weeks after the exam	2–3 weeks after the exam
Certificate	7–9 weeks after the exam	5–6 weeks after the exam

Your Statement of Results will look like this:

your grade for the whole exam

your score on the Cambridge English Scale for the whole exam (this is called the 'overall score')

the CEFR level (B2) of the whole exam

your score on the Cambridge English Scale for each of the four skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking) and Use of English

What does my 'overall score' mean?

Your overall score uses the Cambridge English Scale to show how well you did in the exam.

If you score ...	You will receive ...	Your certificate will show ...
180 or more (grade A)	a certificate for B2 First	... that you demonstrated ability at CEFR Level C1.
160–179 (grade B or C)	a certificate for B2 First	... that you demonstrated ability at CEFR Level B2.
140–159	a certificate from Cambridge English	... that you demonstrated ability at CEFR Level B1.
139 or below	You will not receive a certificate.

What happens if I don't pass one of the papers?

You can't fail a paper. Your 'overall score' is based on the whole exam, so it's possible to pass the exam even if you don't do very well in one paper. Your Statement of Results will show your overall score and your scores for the different parts of the exam.

How can I receive my results online?

You'll need your Candidate ID Number and Secret Number to register with the Results Service for Candidates. You can find these numbers on the Confirmation of Entry document from your exam centre.

How can a university, college or employer check my exam results?

They can use the online Results Verification Service. You will need to give them your Candidate ID Number and Secret Number. If you've lost these numbers, the centre where you took your exam can provide them.

If you do not want to prepare for another exam but you want to continue developing and improving your English, there are many things you could do. For example:

- Continue to read and listen to things in English which interest you, for example novels, television shows, blogs or podcasts
- Join a club or project which involves reading (like a book club) or writing (like a Facebook group where members submit their own short stories)
- Continue to keep a vocabulary notebook. Add any interesting or useful words and phrases which you learn from the things you read and listen to in English.

Next steps in your learning journey

With your B2 First for Schools qualification, you could:

- Begin a course of higher education. Cambridge English Qualifications are officially accepted by thousands of colleges and universities globally.
- Travel, study or work abroad. Cambridge English Qualifications are so well known all around the world, they can give you opportunities in other countries.
- Prepare for the next level: C1 Advanced. A C1 Advanced qualification will help you develop the skills for studying, working or living in English-speaking countries.
