What level is the exam?

The exam focuses on Level A2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). It shows that a student can use everyday English at a basic level.

What's in the exam?

The exam is designed to be fair to people of all nationalities and linguistic backgrounds, and is supported by a dedicated research programme.

It covers all four language skills (Reading, Writing, Listening and Speaking) and knowledge of grammar and vocabulary.

Reading and Writing:
1 hour 10 minutes

Shows that a student can understand simple written information and write short messages related to personal information.

Listening:
30 minutes

Shows that a student can understand key information in everyday conversations.

Speaking:
8-10 minutes

Shows that a student can take part in a conversation. The test is taken face-to-face with one or two other candidates.

Your students' overall performance is calculated by averaging the scores they achieve in Reading and Writing, Listening and Speaking. The score for Reading and Writing is doubled in this calculation.

Where could this exam take students in the future?

“When you learn a language it’s very important that it’s structured. The exams offer you a step-by-step approach.”

Patrick Fryzlewicz
Cambridge English: Key certificate holder and trainee doctor
