TKT Module 1: Assessment Types and Tasks – Teacher’s Notes

Description

This activity introduces teachers to the TKT Module 1 Part 3 syllabus area relating to assessment types and tasks. Participants discuss some of the purposes and methods of assessment and familiarise themselves with different types of assessment.

Time required: 60 minutes

Materials required:
- Participant’s Worksheet 1 (one for each group of participants)
- Participant’s Worksheet 2 (one copy for each pair of participants, cut into strips)
- Participant’s Worksheet 3 (one for each participant)
- Participant’s Worksheet 4 (one for each participant)
- Sample Task (one for each participant)

Aims:
- To provide an opportunity for participants to discuss the purposes of assessment and methods of assessment.
- To look at the design and purpose of a range of assessment tasks and activities.
- To provide practice in completing tasks in which assessment types and activities is the testing focus.

Procedure

1. Before the session, make enough copies of Participant’s Worksheet 2 for every 2 students and cut each copy into strips.

2. (10 minutes) Put participants into groups of three. Hand out Participant’s Worksheet 1, the list of teachers’ comments about assessment. Participants talk together about each of the comments and say if they agree or disagree, and why.

3. Take feedback with the whole group so participants can share opinions.

4. (10 minutes) Each of the comments is about a different type of assessment. Hand out Participant’s Worksheet 2 (methods of assessment) to each pair of participants cut into strips. Ask participants to work in pairs and to match the method of assessment with the teachers’ comments. They may need to use more than one method of assessment for each comment.

5. Check answers together (see key below).

6. (10 minutes) Explain that in TKT Module 1 Part 3, in the syllabus area ‘assessment types and tasks’ the following are tested:
   - knowledge of methods of assessment
   - purposes for assessment
You will now look at purposes for assessment. Put participants into pairs. Hand out Participant’s Worksheet 3 and ask them to identify the purpose of each of the different types of assessment by identifying the correct term for each one.

7. Check answers together (see key below).

8. (10 minutes) Put participants into groups of three. Together, they should brainstorm and make a list of the different types of tasks that can be used in assessment. They should think of exams they have taken themselves to give them ideas.

9. Hand out Participant’s Worksheet 4. Participants continue working in groups and answer Exercise 1 (they name the different types of tasks on the worksheet).

10. Check answers together (see key below).

11. (5 minutes) Introduce the idea of subjective and objective assessment and marking. Ask participants:

- What is the difference between subjective and objective assessment? (An objective test is marked without using the examiner’s opinion, there is a clear right answer. A subjective test is marked using the examiner’s opinion about the quality of the answer. The answer is not simply right or wrong.)

Ask participants to look at Exercise 2 on Worksheet 4 (they say which of the tasks would be subjective and which would be objective).

12. Check answers together (see key below).

13. (10 minutes) Give out Sample Task. Ask participants to complete the sample task on their own then compare their answers with a partner.

14. Check answers together (see key below).

15. (5 minutes) Round up to summarise points covered. Ask participants:

- What is the TKT Module 1 syllabus area for this session? (assessment types and tasks)
- What is students’ attitude towards assessment? (allow participants to share experiences)
- How can you prepare for this part of TKT? (E.g. review terms in the TKT glossary under assessment. Try out different assessment task types.)
TKT Module 1: Assessment Types and Tasks – Answer Keys

Key to Procedure step 5
1. Self assessment
2. Formal assessment; summative assessment
4. Informal assessment; formative assessment; continuous assessment.
5. Portfolio assessment; informal assessment (could be formal if submitted at the end of a course for evaluation); continuous assessment.

Key to Participant’s Worksheet 3
1 C  2 E  3 A  4 B  5 D

Key to Participant’s Worksheet 4
1. Cloze test/gap fill (in a cloze test the gaps are regular e.g. every seventh word, a gap fill is not regular but selected by the teacher or assessor)
2. Comprehension task – open comprehension questions (students answer in their own words)
3. Matching task
4. Multiple-choice task
5. Sentence completion task
6. Sentence transformation task
7. Sentence ordering task/Jumbled sentence task
8. Odd one out task
9. Essay/letter writing task
10. Speaking task

Key to Participant’s Worksheet 4 Exercise 2
1. Subjective (many possible answers)  6. Objective
2. Objective  7. Objective
3. Objective  8. Objective
4. Objective  9. Subjective
5. Objective  10. Subjective

Key to Sample Task
1 B  2 E  3 A  4 F  5 C
Discuss the teachers’ comments below on assessment. Do you agree or disagree? Why/Why not?

1. I think it’s important for students to assess themselves, so sometimes I record them when they are doing a speaking activity and then get them to listen to themselves.

2. I don't like giving my students tests and exams. I think they are demotivating, especially for young learners.

3. I get students to mark each others’ written work and I tell them to just look at it and say what’s wrong. I don’t ask them to check it against any criteria. I don’t think they can look for particular mistakes like spelling mistakes or grammar mistakes.

4. When students are doing a speaking activity, I observe them, but I don’t make any notes and I don’t give marks. Sometimes I talk to students about their strengths and weaknesses in tutorials though.

5. My students choose pieces of their best work during the course and keep them in a file, which can be looked at during the course. I know some teachers use this as the way they assess students at the end of the course, but I’m not sure how that works.

1. This type of test is used during a course in order to assess the learning up to a particular point in the course.

2. This type of test is used to see how well students have learned the language and skills taught in class. These tests are often at the end of term or end of the year and test the main points of what has been taught in that time.

3. This type of test is often used at the beginning of a course in a language school in order to identify a student's level of language and find the best class for them.

4. This type of test is used to identify problems that students have with language or skills. The teacher tries to find out what language problems students have. It helps the teacher to plan what to teach in future.

5. This type of test is used to see how good students are at using the language. The contents of this type of test are not chosen according to what has been taught, but according to what is needed for a particular purpose.
Exercise 1: What are these assessment task and activities called?

1. Complete the sentences.
