Task: Your free time

What activities do you do in your free time? Make a list in your notebook.

Keep a record of your free time activities in the worksheet on the next page. Here is an example to help you.

1. Write your free time activities into the table in the yellow column.
2. Each day, write how many hours you spend on each activity. Write this in the table.
3. At the end of the week, add up the total number of hours for each activity. Write this in the blue column.

Example:

Activity	Number of hours
	Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	TOTAL
Playing sport	1	1	1	1	1		1	6
Watching TV	1	1	1	1	1	1	2	8
Drawing	0.5						1.5	2
Surfing the internet	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	7

4. Think about these questions. You can make notes about your answers:
  - What do you spend most time doing?
  - What do you spend least time doing?
  - Are you surprised how much time you spend doing some activities?
  - Would you like to spend more or less time doing some activities? Why?
  - Do you think your friends' tables would be similar to yours? Why/why not?
5. Talk about the questions with a friend or family member. Ask them the same questions.

Extra challenge: Look at your free time activities table. Count how many hours you spend doing each activity. Make a bar chart, like this:

Worksheet: Free time activities

	Number of hours
Activity	Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	TOTAL

Task: Spelling conversation

You're going to ask and answer questions about free time.

1. Let's start by making questions. Circle the correct question word or words.
  - How many / What do you like watching on TV?
  - What time / Which do you get up on Saturdays?
  - Who / What is your favourite free time activity? Why?

Check with the Answer key.

Extra challenge: think of your own question.

Low-tech spelling conversation

2. Spell out your questions to a family member in your house. For example, don't say the words 'What time...'. Spell the words out: 'W-H-A-T ... T-I-M-E ...'
3. Speak slowly so that your friend or family member can hear the letters and write them.
4. Ask them to spell out their answers to you. Listen and write. Show them what you wrote to check.

High-tech spelling conversation

5. Record yourself spelling out your questions for a family member in your house.
6. Send your recording to your friend or family member. Tell them to:
  - listen to the recording
  - write the questions
  - write their answers
  - record themselves spelling out their answers
(For example: 'I ... G-E-T ... U-P ... A-T ... 7 ... O-C-L-O-C-K)
  - Send you the recording
7. Listen to your friend/family member's recording and write their answers in your notebook
8. Listen again to check.
9. Send your friend or family member a message to check that you understood their answers correctly!
